PROFILE

Well organized, ambitious and driven .NET developer student currently undergoing 2 years of full-time studies at Chas Academy in Stockholm. Well spoken and communicative, a strong team player and leader, with several passion projects in my portfolio. Not afraid of facing challenges and never discouraged by errors – they are simply opportunities to learn and become better.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Team Manager & Fullstack Developer   2025 – Present
Lords Of Arda Project, Stockholm
- Working with a team of five to seven developers and a scrum master, developing a text based roleplaying game (RPG).
- Responsible for planning and moderating weekly retrospectives, collaborating with scrum master to have effective sprints week after week.
- Working as fullstack developer alongside senior developers, committing and pull requesting continuously, clearing merge conflicts when necessary.

Class Representative   2025 - Present
Chas Academy, Stockholm
- Elected class representative by my class peers in the class NET25.
- Representing their opinions and acting as mouthpiece at quarterly board meetings, making sure that the current education is closely tied to the students' ambtitions and wants.
- Being in direct contact with representatives from the several business working with .NET developers, to make sure that the future education of Chas Academy is directly related to the current and future job market and recruiters' wishes.
